Detailed Action

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 2-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Tanaka (US 20020187431 A1).

The claimed invention is directed to a method of manufacturing a two dimensional phase element comprising the use of an etching mask in a checkered pattern.

Tanaka (submitted by applicant as prior art) teaches a method of producing a two-dimensional phase type optical element, characterized in that a first mask and a second mask made of different materials and both having a stripe-like shape are superposedly formed on a substrate, along different directions, respectively, and that positions of all levels to be defined are determined on the basis of at least one of the first and second masks.
